

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, a steadfast faith and devotion to God and a desire to help others are the motivation behind the men and women of The Salvation Army; and

WHEREAS, The Salvation Army in South Carolina provides much more than spiritual counseling and basic human necessities to the needy and hurting on a daily basis; and

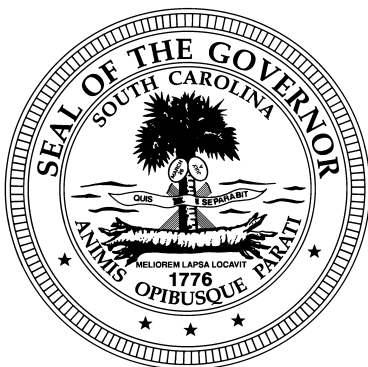

WHEREAS, serving as a symbol of compassion, The Salvation Army is an active participant in the provision of services to thousands of men, women, and children in the Palmetto State; and

WHEREAS, The Salvation Army has been providing these programs to residents for over 100 years, serving people in need without regard to race, color, creed, sex or age.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Mark Sanford, Governor of the Great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim May 15 – 21, 2006, as

throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to honor the dedicated men and women of this organization who touch the lives of so many.
